Location

Bodfor Terrace is a run of late Victorian properties standing four storeys in height which overlook the main sea front in the famed resort of Aberdovey. Aberdovey is one of Wales' top ten or so most iconic holiday destinations, standing at the mouth of the River Dyfi where Snowdonia and the county of Gwynedd meet the county of Ceredigion, with the Cambrian Mountains beyond. The renowned holiday resort of Borth can be seen on the other side of the Dyfi Estuary and, as well as the market town of Machynlleth which was once the capital of Wales and the seat of the Welsh kings, the University of Aberystwyth is some 30 miles distant to the south (notably less however 'as the crow flies' as one has to circumnavigate the River Dyfi by heading inland to the east).

Snowdonia needs no introduction, being the home of some of Britain's most spectacular mountain countryside and is an iconic location in its own right, particularly with those who love outward bound pursuits. Aberdovey, with its harbour, attracts boating enthusiasts, and the River Dyfi is one of the best fishing rivers in the UK.

The Property

The subject property forms part of at one time would have been a gentleman's residence overlooking the sea front.
